It Happened One Night

Miss Nellie Royle, who had been attending summer school at Edmonton, returned home the early part of the week. She leaves again on Saturday to take a position in a school 58 miles west of Edmonton.

The Claresholm Horticultural Society's fifth annual flower and vegetable show opens today. Dr. J. S. Hynes, formerly of Blairmore, is president of the society, with Mrs. R. L. King as secretary-treasurer.

NEW MOUNTAIN HIGHWAY

Announcement of the intention of the Dominion government to proceed with the completion of the new mountain highway connecting Banff and Jasper national parks in the Alberta Rockies, is received by Alberta people with considerable pleasure. With the announcement comes the statement that labor will be recruited from unemployed ranks at regular rates of wages, which it is believed will assist in relieving the unemployment situation. The new highway, which may be completed within three years, will be one of the finest scenic routes in the world. Some 40 miles have already been completed on the Jasper end, and 17 miles on the Banff end of the route.

A JUST JUDGE

Judge J. D. Matheson and his wife, from Alberta, are paying a short visit to Nova Scotia, which is the native birth of the judge. He was educated at Pictou Academy and Dalhousie University. Last week the judge called on his old friend, Town Solicitor H. S. MacKay. The judge and Mr. MacKay were students together at Pictou Academy and room-mates and class-mates while at Dalhousie. The judge's many friends in Nova Scotia are extending congratulations and good wishes on his appointment to the bench. Judge Matheson is one of the numerous Nova Scotians who have made good in the Canadian West—Westville Note in New Glasgow Free Lance.

Clem Stubbs has returned to work for the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company as pit boss. Wm. Cole, of Bellevue, is now managing the Michel theatre—Michel-Natal Observer.

William Robbins has resigned his position with Plunkett & Savage Ltd. and is succeeded by Colin McDonald, formerly of the Red Trail motor, who entered upon his new duties this morning. We understand that Mr. Robbins will engage in general trucking.

APPLICATION BEING MADE FOR NEW RAILWAY CROSSING

Representatives of the town council held a conference Wednesday afternoon with officials of the C.E.R. on the question of opening up a new railway crossing in Blairmore.

It is proposed to establish a park and swimming pool between the C.P.R. and Victoria street, and in order to have sufficient space for such, it is considered necessary to make the main railway crossing opposite either Seventh or Sixth avenue, instead of the present Fifth avenue crossing.

Years ago, a similar proposition was discussed with the board of railway commissioners, but owing to opposition entered by local parties, the crossing at Sixth avenue never materialized.

The result of yesterday's conference will not be known for a few days, but the Town Council are hopeful their programme will be carried through.

RAISING UP DEPENDENTS

The well-known fear exists that public relief work as creating a dependent class, urban and rural, and destroying the moral fibre of thousands of men and women. The habit of reliance on governmental aid grows rapidly. It saps the will and energy of a country. It undermines the spirit of self-reliance, essential to recovery. Its subtle and damaging influence is felt, not alone by those who throw themselves upon relief, but by all of us who lose our sense of direct responsibility for the problem by shifting it to the Federal Government.—Herald.

THE GASOLINE TAX

An increase of 25 per cent in four years in the average of gasoline taxes paid by motorists in Canada is recorded in figures of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics for 1933 just released.

From 1930 to 1932, the average tax in Canada was 5.44 cents per gallon. This year the average is 6.77 cents per gallon, which equals approximately one quarter of the selling price of popular grades in various sections of the Dominion.

Taking a three-year average from the bureau's last official figures covering the total selling value of new cars produced in Canada, at the works, for the period 1930-32, the last available, the average per annum totals $61,097,512. In the same three-year period motorists—ten per cent of the population—have paid out annually, an average of $44,420,707 in gas taxes and licenses, or the equivalent of 70 per cent of the former figure, every year.

At the same time, while the gasoline tax has increased by 25 per cent, the selling value of cars at the works has dropped from $91,776,506 in 1930 to $38,560,796, and gasoline consumption has declined from over 600 million gallons in 1929 to 484,223,000 gallons in 1933.

Study of the bureau's figures show a trend to decline in the consumption of gasoline almost simultaneously with the increase in the taxation of this product, which, originally, was imposed to pay for highways but which now, in most provinces, is being absorbed into revenues to be used for general purposes.

Alarmed at the persistent increase in the taxation, motor executives throughout Canada are indicating to their respective governments that some alleviation will inevitably lead to the more extensive use of automobiles and that this will re-act to the benefit of provincial treasuries.—New Glasgow Free Lance.

W. L. Carlyle, of the Prince of Wales ranch, was a visitor to Blairmore last week end, accompanied by Masters J. C. and P. C. Klinger, of High River.

OPEN CAMP FIRES FORBIDDEN

An extremely serious fire situation exists in the forest areas in the south-western part of the province, and the foothill range country adjacent, states Hon. Hugh Allen, provincial minister of Lands and Mines.

Open camp fires are prohibited in the area roughly described as the territory south from the Bow river to the United States boundary and west of the Calgary-Macleod line of the C.P.R. Camping is not prohibited, however, in this area, provided satisfactory stoves are used.

Everything that can be done in the way of precautionary measures has been already effected by the provincial forest service, the minister stated, and a special warning is once more being issued to all campers, tourists and others inhabiting the zone so that the intense seriousness of the situation might be borne in mind.

Every caution, it was stated, should be employed against the present menace to life and property. The smallest act of carelessness might be responsible for "irreparable destruction which might carry with it loss of life as well as property—the destruction of large tracts of valuable timber or the loss of feed for stock. The spark from a match or cigarette was all that was required to start a conflagration of immense proportions.

"FUR HE DRIVETH FURIOUSLY"

The person referred to in the title is Jehu, of Biblical history, who was first a military officer of high rank and later, king of Israel. The chariot was a popular vehicle in those days, and Jehu was a skilful driver. On one particularly memorable occasion he drove to Jezreel in a hurry, for the special purpose of killing some of his royal enemies. As he approached the city he was seen by a watchman who reported that "the driving is like the driving of Jehu, the son of Nimshi, for he driveth furiously." From this we are led to believe that Jehu had acquired a reputation among his contemporaries as a "speeder."

There are many modern Jehus who drive "furiously"—60 or 70 miles an hour, or more—often under unfavorable conditions and with no reasonable excuse for travelling at excessive speed. They do not set out with the intention of killing anybody, but too often they cause death before they reach their destinations, merely because they travel too fast. Some of them are victims of their own folly, but more often the lives sacrificed are those of other persons who, in exercising their privileges to be on the highway, are so unfortunate as to be overtaken by these selfish and senseless drivers.

In 1933 one-third of all the deaths resulting from improper driving practices were attributed directly to exceeding speed limits. More powerful cars and wider roads invite higher speeds and more deaths. The element of danger is always present in automobile driving, but it becomes more pronounced with increasing speed. If the all-too-common habit of driving "furiously" can be checked, serious automobile accidents will be greatly reduced in number.—Cranbrook Courier.

Mr. S. F. D. Roe, manager of the Cranbrook branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, is being transferred to Calgary, to be succeeded at Cranbrook by C. A. Sneath, of Lacombe.

Word has been received of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. John Germanson, of Rochester, Alberta, at the Athabasca hospital. Mrs. Germanson was formerly Miss Janet Cameron, for a time member of the Blairmore, teaching staff and daughter of Mrs. Cameron, of Burma. Grandma was in town a few days ago, when she, too, was showered with congratulations.

AND YOU KNOW THEM!

In every community there are to be found two different types of citizens—the citizen who stands on the street corner, with his hands stuffed down in his pockets, his shoulders stooped and a sneer on his face, is of no value to any community. He is the fellow who says the fire department does not know how to fight a fire, and tells how it ought to be done, but never lends a hand. He is the fellow who complains about the rats in the streets, but he hasn't paid any taxes for years and, of course, does not help to keep them in condition. He is the fellow who finds fault with the public schools and the teachers, but never did anything in his life to improve the schools. He is the fellow who criticizes the local newspaper, but never subscribed for it, or if he did, he never paid for it. He is the fellow who condemns everything and sees no good in anything.

Contrast him with the citizen who is a booster, and may be counted on to help every worthy cause. This type of citizen pays his debts and his taxes, stands for everything that is for the betterment of the place where he lives, and never allows his enthusiasm for his home town to lag. He is an asset to any community. It is men of his class who are responsible for all the improvements that are made. We owe it to him that we have good streets, that our school system is as modern as it is, and that we live in a place that we can boast of to our friends. It is this latter individual who invests his money in the development of the district.

Classify yourself and see which class you belong to, and which type you can match. If you belong to the first, it's time for rejuvenation. If you belong to the latter, more power to your elbow.—Ex.

CABRIOLET WINS CUP

Chevrolet is apparently as popular abroad as at home. Participating in the Concours de Elegance, a fashion show and exhibit held recently at Sitges, an exclusive seaside resort in Spain, a Chevrolet cabriolet had no difficulty in securing the silver cup award in an exhibit made up of many famous competing cars, according to one dispatch. New Zealand motorists, reports Mantel Motors, Limited, of Wellington, call the new action Chevrolet "the wonder car of 1934". Sales this year, Mantel states, greatly exceed last year. The city of Khartoum, Egypt, recently augmented its transportation facilities with a fleet of modern Chevrolet taxi-cabs driven by native personnel.

The provincial technical school at Calgary enjoyed a successful season, a total of 781 students being registered for the past term. In addition, 647 unemployed attended 23 classes offered, being given instruction by 36 instructors acting without salary. The school is now conducting a course in aeronautics, the only course of its kind given in Canada. It is planned during the coming term to design and build a complete aeroplane.

The Checkerboard And Peace

"Britain's frontier is now the Rhine." This statement, made in the British House of Commons by Stanley Baldwin while acting premier during the absence, in Canada, of Ramsay MacDonald, and used to epitomize his plea for extension of Britain's aerial fleets, thrust into vivid prominence the altered status of the nation's position in regard to her European neighbors. Development of aircraft by continental powers has banished that security from hostile attack guaranteed heretofore by a powerful navy and the "chalk cliffs of Dover". Automatically, her frontier has been pushed outward step by step with the growth of foreign air armadas and the increasing range of potential enemy aeroplanes.

Synchronizing, as it did, with the disturbing sequence of events which preceded and followed the assassination of Chancellor Dollfus of Austria, the debate in the British house startlingly revealed the extent to which the atmosphere surrounding the European scene had been impregnated with fear of war. No wonder Britain's statesmen are perturbed; no wonder the chancelleries have been striving to secure some effective guarantees of territorial integrity among the storm-racked powers of Europe!

The fear of war can be traced directly to the militarization of Germany under Adolf Hitler, and the obvious ambition of the Nazis to extend the sphere of German influence until the Reich becomes dominant in European affairs. Prior to the Austrian embargo, a concerted movement had been launched in Europe whose objective was (and is) effectively to curb Nazi ambitions of territorial expansion, west, east and south. The western front, marching with France and Belgium, had, of course, been "guaranteed", by the agreements contained in the Locarno treaty of 1925. Germany, France, Belgium, Great Britain and Italy had agreed, individually and collectively, to guarantee the inviolability of the Franco-German and Belgio-German boundaries as defined by the Treaty of Versailles. There had also to be a complete demilitarization of German territory west of a line drawn east of the Rhine.

Agreements with respect to eastern boundaries, however, were not sanctified by as far-reaching commitments and mutual guarantees. It is true, there was a network of arbitration treaties involving Poland, Czechoslovakia, Germany and also France, but the Reich would not go so far as to accept as inviolate and permanent her eastern border. In fact, the hope has been cherished assiduously in Berlin that sooner or later there would come revision of the German-Polish boundary which would restore Danzig and the Polish Corridor to the Reich. It is this rift in the lute of peace, diplomats of Europe are now seeking to close by means of what has become known as an "Eastern Locarno".

The "Eastern Locarno" pact now proposed calls for a mutual assistance agreement involving Russia, the Baltic States, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Germany, and would provide mutual guarantees of their respective frontiers and for mutual aid against an aggressor seeking to upset the status quo. As Germany is the only nation fundamentally opposed to the present territorial set-up, the real meaning of the "Eastern Locarno" is apparent.

The actual significance of the proposed treaty is that Nazi Germany's ambitions would indeed be curbed. If Berlin signs (and it has been put squarely up to Hitler), it would mean voluntary acceptance of her present boundaries, all demands for an aggressor seeking to upset the status quo. As Germany is the only nation fundamentally opposed to the present territorial set-up, the real meaning of the "Eastern Locarno" is apparent.

Apparently, too, "Locarno" is the formula of peace upon which European chancelleries pin their greatest faith. In addition to the "Eastern Locarno", a similar treaty, known as the "Southern Locarno", designed to preserve the Mediterranean status quo and involving, probably, Turkey, Italy, Greece and Yugoslavia, also is mooted.

Curbing Crime

Feminine Crusade Against Crime Started In United States

A feminine crusade against crime—designed to eliminate depredations of the Dillinger type—drew commendation from the United States department of justice.

The crusade has been given tremendous impetus recently by powerful women's organization.

"Women can play a most important part in the curbing of crime," said William Stanley, acting attorney-general.

"They can compare the form of government of their locality with the form in localities where not so many crimes are committed. We plan to set up a central bureau to furnish such information."

"If they find an unusual amount of crime, it is certainly indication that there can be improvement. They can demand improvement."

Correct Definition

A Sunday school teacher of modernistic tendencies was telling his class that the miracles recorded in the Bible were not to be taken too literally. "My impression is . . ." said he. Then, by way of testing their knowledge of words, he asked, "Can any of you tell me what an impression is?" "Please, sir," said a shrill voice from the corner, "an impression is a dent in a soft spot."

Some Odd Professions

Many Queer Ways Of Earning Living In India

Apparently, the West has not the sole monopoly of queer ways of earning a living, for the following extract is taken from the Census Report, an official publication of the government of India, and shows that there are in India such odd professions as those practised by: Sellers of Grasshoppers, Pourers of Water on Gods, Vendors of Halim, Sellers of Bad Blood, Sellers of Gold Nails in Teeth, Breakers of Dead Bullock Horns, Cradle Swingers, Professional Identifying Witnesses, Charity Receivers on Burial Grounds, Drivers Away of Epidemics by Chorus and Ear Wax Removers. In addition, the Census tables reveal that altogether there are 37,778 people earning their living as horoscope casters, astrologers, wizards, witches, mediums and fortune-tellers.

Hotels In Sahara Desert

Had To Be Taken By Camels In Small Parties

As the French penetrate further and further southward into the Sahara, pacifying the roving Arab tribes as they go, hotels are being erected for the accommodation of government officials, visiting army officers, business men and the occasional venturesome tourist.

The hotels had to be taken south, through the desert, in parcels. Each parcel weighed about 200 lbs. and was one camel-load. Caravan after caravan, travelling 45 days through the sands, brought to Timmoun, in the far south of Algeria, the many tons of windows, doors, glass, china, linen, cutlery, furniture, electrical installation and other equipment needed for the local hotel.

Neither foremen nor European laborers would agree to go there, so the place was built by French army engineers, who themselves had to trace in the sand the first outline of the building, because the superstitious wild Arabs of the region feared The Evil Eye, and would not have anything to do with blue-prints. They did consent to make mud bricks, however, which form the walls, and to drag up the site the date-palm trunks forming the roof beams and "girder-work".

The rest had to come in parcels. Even the ships of the desert bringing the parcels were temperamental. They would not travel on even such good hard roads as were to be found along their line of route, but had to be steered over soft sandy courses. Camels suffer from bad spells of foot soreness unless allowed soft tracks.

Drouth In South Dakota

Guards Patrol Water Holes In Western Part Of State

Instead of fat cattle and bumper crops the water famine has brought gaunt beasts and meagre yields approaching a crop famine in South Dakota, the estimates of agricultural experts showed.

Already the federal government has sent $26,600,000 into South Dakota for drouth relief since September, 1932. This sum is exclusive of corn, hog and wheat benefits and cattle purchases. Yet debts exist, mortgages are held on cattle and land.

C. J. Borum, agricultural statistician of the state college of agriculture at Brookings, estimates winter wheat would run about 4.5 bushels to the acre. Forty-two thousand acres remain out of 296,000 acres which were planted.

Guards patrol water holes in the western part of the state. Drinking water is carted miles to be sold in some sections.

Japan Develops New Art

Sculptography, by means of which persons or objects may be photographed in solid form, has been developed in Japan. Sculptography's greatest contribution to science, according to its sponsors, is in replacing the human element in the making of sculptures where exact likeness is more important than the artistic element. Just as photography replaced painting for such purposes, so sculptography has replaced ordinary sculpturing.

Model Hospital System

Irish Free State Using Sweepstakes To Further Project

With $15,000,000 spent and an equal amount awaiting distribution, the Irish Free State hospitals envision an early day when they will be the envy of the world's surgeons and medical research workers. Ambitious plans for the permanent endowment of the hospitals of the country are being laid by the hospitals commission, a body headed by Michael Durnan, former chief European engineer for Henry Ford, controls the vast sums which have been painlessly raised in every corner of the globe and prevents haphazard extensions by existing hospitals so as to prevent waste and overlapping. While allowing sufficient cash to trickle out of the fund for current needs the commission is proceeding with its task of evolving a model hospital system for the Free State in which every institution will be co-ordinated with its neighbor.

Soviet Buying Arms

Newspaper Claims Shipments From England Going To Russia

A London newspaper says that it is able to reveal that the record export of arms from Great Britain, amounting to £2,482,246, was due mainly to orders from Soviet Russia.

The arms consisted largely of machine guns and munitions. More than three-quarters of the total found their way to Russia.

The permission of Whitehall had to be secured for these large shipments.

The reason for these rush orders is that Russia is feverishly buying up the products of the world's armament factories in readiness for the struggle she believes is approaching with Japan.

Although the figures stand so high, they would have been much larger owing to insistent demands from Paraguay and Bolivia, but in these instances applications for licenses by the munitions manufacturers have been turned down by the foreign office.

Flags Raised Huge Sum

Kitchener Flag Collected $150,000 For World War Fund

Flags which raised hundreds of thousands of dollars for helpless soldiers and refugees during the World War have just been presented to the Australian government by Edward Solomon of Melbourne. They are to be hung near the National War Memorial at Canberra when it is completed. The most treasured relic in the collection is the Kitchener flag which alone raised $150,000. It is an Australian flag, which was sent nearly 200,000 miles and twice around the world to collect signatures. It was signed in the trenches by Joffre and Haig. A star from it was sent to Admiral Jellicoe, which he signed and returned for sewing into the flag. The autographs of the King and Queen were later added. Finally the flag was sent back to Australia where it was raffled in 1918.

Canada's Industrial Prairies

Report Shows Western Provinces Are Becoming Industrialized

Canada's prairie provinces—Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta—are rapidly becoming industrialized. While these provinces, often referred to as "The Bread Basket of the World", are famous for their output of agricultural products, at the same time manufacturing plays an important part.

According to a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, in 1932 the three prairie provinces manufactured goods with a selling value at the factory of $187,451,377. Establishments engaged in manufacturing numbered 2,687 and represented a capital investment of $354,450,263. These plants provided employment to 38,964 workers who received salaries and wages totalling $42,435,765. The value of materials purchased totalled $92,247,846 and the value added by manufacture amounted to $95,203,531.

Flour and feed mills led all industries with an output valued at $24,246,791. Slaughtering and meat packing followed with products worth $23,704,599. Other leading industries were butter and cheese to the value of $18,754,928, central electric stations $15,693,278; railway rolling stock, $12,014,038; petroleum products, $11,058,020; printing and publishing $8,757,444; breweries, $6,359,259; printing and bookbinding, $4,417,145.

Not A Jew

Sir John Simon, British Foreign Minister, Denies He Is Of Jewish Origin

Sir John Simon, British foreign minister, denied he is a Jew. Sir John wrote the denial to a correspondent who had drawn his attention to statements current in Britain and abroad that the foreign minister was of Jewish origin.

At the same time Sir John expressed his denial would not be distorted to make him appear sympathetic with anti-Semitism, an attitude he regards as "un-English" and which he "utterly condemns". The minister's correspondent had mentioned reports that Sir John's ancestry had powerfully influenced the national government since he became foreign minister.

Interesting Items Cleared From Many Sources

There were 36,563 less hogs graded in Canada for the first six months in 1934 than in the corresponding period of 1933.

When salting cucumbers, a layer of dill and a handful of mixed spices may be placed on the bottom and top of the crock.

The cheaper cuts of beef should be used in making soup, both because of their low cost and because they come from those parts of the animal which are richest in extractives. Bacon exports to the United Kingdom continue to make headway, and the movement to date this year is very far ahead of that for the corresponding period of last year.

On July 14, 1934, 15 goldings, 23 mares, 18 steers, 11 heifers, 6 cows, 6 bulls, 3 stallions, and 1 herder horse, all steers, were in the various official pounds of Alberta.

The British Crown colony of Trinidad and Tobago, with which Canada does an increasing trade, is the largest in area of any of the island colonies in the eastern group of the British West Indies.

A roast will brown more readily if sufficient flour is rubbed into the surface to make it dry. This also assists in preventing the escape of the juices.—Beef Bulletin, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The demand for honey in all the principal countries of the world arises from three main sources: (1) food domestic consumption; (2) various manufacturing trades, confectioners, bakers, chemists, etc., and from the catering trade.

According to the regulations governing fruit trading in Canada, the phrase "properly packed" means that apples, pears, plums, etc., are not slack in the receptacle, or overpressed, or in a condition which is likely to result in permanent damage during handling or transit.

No fruit of any kind intended for sale shall be packed in any package other than the packages prescribed under the regulations of the Fruit and Honey Act, 1934, for each individual kind of fruit, except that where packages are not identified as for the individual kind of fruit, they may be used for any fruit.

For the month of June exports of cattle to the United Kingdom were approximately 500 head smaller than for June, 1933, the movement being affected by market conditions, but for the first seven months of this year the number of cattle exported to Great Britain exceeded last year's corresponding period by 1,342 head.

When honey from more than one person is included in one shipment under one inspection certificate, the person assuming responsibility for the shipment must place a designating mark, registered with the Dominion Minister of Agriculture, on all lots of honey included in the shipment, for the purpose of identifying the packer.

Attention has again been drawn by the Livestock and Meat Trade Review, published by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, to the evil of overloading the Monday livestock market. Such action is a direct snub to the law of supply and demand, and not among its least evils is that it largely affects cattle of a value least able to support marketing costs, adding further costs to the carryover.

FARM CREDIT ACT IS TO BE APPLIED SOON

Ottawa.—Within 10 days the government will implement the Farm Credit Act passed last session, enabling debt-ridden farmers to arrange compromises with the creditors and start over again financially, it was announced. It probably will apply first to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, where the need is most being extended later to all provinces.

M. A. MacPherson, former attorney-general for Saskatchewan, has been in Ottawa two or three weeks drafting regulations under the act and starting it in motion. He will not be a permanent official.

In a statement, the former Saskatchewan official said the purpose of the act was to provide legal machinery of the simplest type, enabling financially-distressed farmers to secure relief from their over-prowed debts. At the same time, it provided safeguards for the creditors.

In passing the legislation, said Mr. MacPherson, parliament "left that if the debtor and creditor can be brought together easily and the actual facts and circumstances obtained by reasonable and frank consideration then, that there should and would be an understanding arrived at."

The legislation makes available to both sides the opportunity that there may be fair investigation of the true situation.

"This should mean a fresh start for the debtor—a start which will mean that while he will still have obligations, these obligations will be so rearranged that he can face the future with confidence and be no longer in default. Each party must be prepared to deal reasonably with the other. A settlement is needed between debtor and creditor and it must be made without destroying the basis of credit and confidence, and, as well, without undermining the basis of co-operation."

If, under the act, the parties at their meeting cannot agree, then there is provision for appeal to a tribunal which can formulate a binding proposal, basing it upon the "present and prospective" value of the debtor to perform the obligations prescribed and the productive value of the farm (Section 12).

No Change This Year

Government House in Ontario Not To Be Closed

Toronto.—Decision as to the maintenance of an official residence for the lieutenant-governor of Ontario will be reached when the legislature meets, Premier Mitchell Hepburn has stated. Asked if he was going to close up government house, Mr. Hepburn said the funds for this year had been voted and no change would be made.

"A resolution will be introduced in the house next session, either by the government or a member dealing with the matter," he said. "It will be left to a vote of the representatives of the people and I don't think there is much doubt of the result."

Mr. Hepburn said he had no desire to harass or annoy the lieutenant-governor but had to give effect to the will of the people to curtail expenses. The governor was appointed by the federal government and consequently the province had nothing to say as to his $10,000 salary but a decision had to be reached as to whether the province should continue to maintain a residence. In his opinion it should not.

Strengthen Gold Reserve

Flow Of Hoarded Gold To London From India Now $750,000,000

New York.—The flow of hoarded gold from India to London, which began with Britain's suspension of the gold standard not quite three years ago, has now exceeded the sum of $750,000,000.

This movement of metal from the hide-aways of the east is a major factor in strengthening the financial basis for economic recovery, in the opinion of many commentators. Much of the gold has gone into the vaults of central banks where it provides the foundation for credit and currency.

Tree Museum

Seattle.—Work has been started on what officials say will be the "biggest tree museum in the United States." The Washington Emergency Relief Administration made $200,000 available for the giant Lake Washington arboretum.

Marketing Plan

Plan To Be Put In Operation, Beginning With Apples

Toronto.—The Globe in a special despatch from its Ottawa correspondent says the Dominion government's experiment in control and regulation of marketing of natural products will be inaugurated this week. The first products to be dealt with under the scheme will be apples and pears, the Globe says.

The first step in launching the scheme will be the designation of a minister to take charge and it is expected Hon. Robert Weir, minister of agriculture, will start the work at once. The cabinet will then pass approval on Mr. Weir's selections for the federal marketing board after which the act will be promulgated.

The Globe added: "Mr. Weir, it is understood, will take personal and active charge of the operations of the federal board, whose primary function will be to deal with the various schemes submitted by producers throughout the Dominion. The federal organization is expected to include in its various departments such officials as D. Horace Barton, deputy minister; Dr. J. F. Booth, formerly director of markets for Saskatchewan; and an authority in the department of the wheat situation; R. L. Wheeler, acting fruit commissioner in the absence of G. E. McIntosh, who is ill; J. F. Singleton, dairy commissioner, and G. B. Rothwell, livestock commissioner."

Churchill Busy Port

Takes On Business Aspect At The Opening Of Navigation

Churchill, Man.—Rising from the rock-rimmed Hudson Bay shore, the mammoth elevator and docks of Canada's most northern seaport have taken on a business like aspect as preparations went ahead for opening of navigation within the next few days.

Three steamers are inward bound, the S.S. Dalworth of the Dalgleish line, the S.S. Brandon, and the S.S. Rio Chama. No longer a mere outpost of civilization, but a vital point in the commerce of a nation, Churchill girdled itself for the busiest shipping season since the northern water route was opened in 1931.

The ships have been chartered to handle Churchill's share of that golden tide of grain which flows each year from Canada's western prairies. The 2,500,000 bushel elevator is filled to capacity and in addition to grain cargoes, cattle, flour, oatmeal and other commodities will be shipped from the northern port this year.

The S.S. Brandon and took the first cattle shipment of 20 head over the northern route. The Brandon will again depart with a livestock cargo and it is believed this boat and the S.S. Greilhead will make two trips into Hudson Bay this year.

Studying Crop Loan Plan

Would Give U.S. Farmers Control Of 1935 Supplies

Washington.—A gigantic crop loan plan which would leave control of 1935 supplies in the hands of farmers who produce it is hatching in the United States farm administration.

Modelled after this year's corn and cotton loans, the plan will call for government loans on a wide range of other crops. There will be stipulation that supplies must be sold when prices rise to a certain point. Last year the government advanced farmers 10 cents a pound on stored cotton, and 45 cents a bushel on corn sealed in cribs or warehouses. This pegged prices at those levels and officials say the plan was a success.

As prices advanced beyond those levels recently, farmers began selling crops, paying off loans and making a profit for themselves.

Start Dionne Home

Callander, Ont.—Excavation work has started for the new home of the 71-day-old Dionne quintuplets. The modern brick building will be known as "The Dufco hospital for the Dionne quintuplets," in honor of the middle-aged north country practitioner who has amazed the world with the favorable progress his direction has brought the infants.

Gold In Manchukuo

Tokyo.—Geologists and mining experts believe Manchukuo has rich deposits of gold, hidden in its extensive Kiangnan and other mountain ranges and river valleys, just awaiting exploitation by modern methods to yield returns that would make the new East Asian empire one of the wealthiest countries in the world.

Profit On Wheat

Presumably Belongs To The Three Western Pools

Ottawa.—Statisticians at work when wheat recently touched a dollar a bushel for the May delivery at Winnipeg, estimated a book profit of $20,000,000 on the government insurance into wheat price stabilization.

The profit, it finally realized according to John I. McFarland, manager of the selling agency, presumably belongs to the pools of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta and not to the Dominion, which guaranteed the manoeuvre to the banks.

The profit does not affect the return to the farmer and is predicted upon this year's reduction in yield in Western Canada and the crop failure in western Manitoba and southern Saskatchewan.

PROJECT TO BUILD UP STRONG AIR FORCE IN BRITAIN

London.—Goniometric radio stations for noting positions of aeroplanes and indicating their exact position if necessary will be set up around the coast of the United Kingdom. The air ministry has announced.

The project is part of the new drive to build up the Royal Air Force to protect Britain in case of invasion.

Such stations are slated for the Isle of Wight, Ireland, Scotland and the north of England.

"A confidential mission of the highest importance connected with the defence of the Empire" is being undertaken by Sir Maurice Hankey, secretary of the imperial defence committee and of the cabinet, according to the Daily Herald.

It was announced Sir Maurice is leaving for Australia to attend the Victoria centenary celebrations and on the way will spend some time in Cape Town, South Africa, Lady Hankey's former home.

Describing the centenary celebration as the outstanding purpose of the visit the Herald says the utmost secrecy is being observed with regard to the real object. It says that in addition to South Africa and Australia, Sir Maurice will visit New Zealand and Canada to discuss with experts on the spot vital matters of military, naval and aerial strategy.

The paper further suggests these questions are connected with "defence problems arising out of the new turn of British policy resulting from the reciprocal visits of General Maxime Weygand (chief of the French general staff) and Lord Halifax (British minister of state) also the naval requirements of the Empire in view of the outlook for the 1935 naval conference which the Herald describes as 'gloomier than ever.'"

Sir Maurice's intention to visit Canada and New Zealand is also mentioned by the Daily Mail and the Daily Express. The Mail says he will take advantage of his trip to make a tour visiting the various Empire governments on behalf of the cabinet and adds it is understood important questions of imperial policy, particularly with regard to defence, will likely be discussed.

It was stated some time ago that Sir Maurice would advise Australia on defence matters during his visit.

DEPOSED "PRESIDENT"

According to Germany's constitution, Dr. Erwin Bumpke, President of the German Supreme Court, should have succeeded the late President Paul von Hindenburg. His term of President would last only until a successor could be elected, but Hitler elected himself before Bumpke had a chance at the post.

His plan would make a working year of 360 days, during which time the calendar would be unchanged from month to month, Sundays would always come on the seventh, 13th, 19th and 26th each month. There would be no Friday, 13th.

To take up the remaining five days, Mr. Gilmore would have them follow Christmas, being a series of festival days. They would end with New Year's day.

Reformed Calendar

Windsor Man Proposes System With Five Weeks In Each Month

Windsor, Ont.—A 12-month year with five weeks in each month and six days in each week is the simplified calendar which Alexander J. Gilmore, of Detroit, has before the world to-day. He would eliminate Saturday.

His plan would make a working year of 360 days, during which time the calendar would be unchanged from month to month, Sundays would always come on the seventh, 13th, 19th and 26th each month. There would be no Friday, 13th.

To Reduce Relief Burden

Dominion To Put 1,200 Men To Work On Jasper Highway

Calgary.—The Calgary Herald published the following:

"For the purpose of reducing the relief burden of Calgary and Edmonton, the Dominion government plans to take 1,200 married unemployed men who are receiving relief and put them to work on the Lake Louise-Jasper highway at a wage rate of 40 to 45 cents an hour."

"Six hundred men will be recruited from Calgary and 600 from Edmonton," it was said.

Grant Wage Increase

Montreal.—An agreement giving wage increases of 10 per cent. to those paid by the week and 20 per cent. to piece workers virtually brought to an end a strike that tied up the women's clothing industry in Montreal for more than a week. Some 2,000 workers, members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, will return to their benches.

Old Shell Kills Boys

Kowl, Poland.—Five little boys were torn to pieces by the explosion of a world war shell they attempted to take apart. Two other lads were badly injured. The boys were tending sleep at the time.

THEY WAITED—BUT HE NEVER CAME

Pension For Dollfus' Widow

Will Receive Sum Equal To Chancellor's Salary

Vienna.—The semi-official Wiener Zeitung published a decree by which Austria accorded the widow of Dollfus a pension for herself and her children.

The widow will receive during the term of her widowhood a yearly amount equal to the late chancellor's salary. In addition she will receive a special sum for each of her children. In the event of her remarriage the children will continue to receive special pensions until they come of age.

May Stop Wheat Exports

U.S. Needs Pacific Northwest Supply For Domestic Use

Washington.—The farm administration plans to stop exporting wheat from the Pacific northwest because of the rapidly diminishing supply in the United States.

To date 28,000,000 bushels have been sold abroad by the North Pacific Emergency Export Association. Their operations soon will be stopped and remaining and prospective stocks shunted into domestic channels.

NEW MEASURES TAKEN AGAINST AUSTRIAN NAZIS

Vienna.—Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg announced the government's agreement to Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen of Germany as special envoy to Vienna, at the same time taking powerful new measures to end Nazi propaganda in Austria.

A government communiqué announcing Von Papen's acceptance revealed at the same time the granting of sweeping powers to Major Emil Fey, minister of the interior. In his capacity of special commissioner for security measures, Fey is charged with snuffing out Nazi influence.

The long-delayed acceptance of Von Papen by the new Austrian government as Chancellor Hitler's special appointee came during a cabinet meeting.

The new envoy faces a difficult task in improving relations which have been strained since Hitler came to power, and embarked after July 27 by what the Austrian government openly considered to be proof of a plot partially planned in Germany.

Although it was understood the conditions were attached to the acceptance, it was generally believed here the length of his residence as special envoy will depend more upon the future actions of the German government than upon anything Von Papen can do in Austria.

Under the new decree, Major Fey can order dismissal of private employees held to be guilty of spreading Nazi propaganda against the government. "Patriotic" persons will be given jobs thus vacated. The new government thus has gone a step further than the Dollfus regime ever ventured in efforts to wipe out Nazi influence.

The relentless campaign of the Austrian government against the Nazis claimed another life on the gallows—this time the life of a soldier in the regular army.

Ernst Felke, a soldier, was hanged in a courtyard here for participating in the putsch in which Chancellor Dollfus was slain.

He was the first member of the government armed forces to be tried and executed on charges of high treason in connection with the Nazi outbreak.

Another death sentence was imposed to-day in Klagenfurt, but the prisoner, Karl Kosterling, also a Nazi, received a commutation to 15 years' imprisonment from President Miklas.

Felke in his court martial trial based in the name of Emil Fey, former vice-chancellor and still a cabinet member, who was imprisoned in the federal chancellery when Dollfus was killed.

The defence in the trial sought a hearing by the new chancellor, Kurt Schuschnigg, as to whether safe conduct to Germany had been promised to the putschists. This the court rejected.

As the death sentence was imposed, the soldier raised his arm in a Nazi salute and shouted "Heil Hitler!"

He was pulled back to his bench by a guard.

TWO AVIATORS MAKE CANADA TO ENGLAND FLIGHT

London.—The first successful Canada-to-England flight was written in to Trans-Atlantic crossing records, but two gallant aviators failed in their attempt to set a song distance record.

When James R. Ayling and Leonard Reid set down their "Trail of the Caribou" at Heston aerodrome they had covered approximately 3,700 miles from Wasaga Beach, Ont., their take-off point. Their goal was Bagdad, 6,500 miles from the Georgian Bay shores.

Many flights over the Atlantic from Newfoundland have been successful, but the few attempts from Canada—none within comparatively recent years—have failed.

Ayling and Reid left Wasaga Beach at 6:12 a.m. E.D.T. They landed at Heston at 1:07 E.D.T., an elapsed time of 30 hours and 55 minutes.

A rapidly diminishing supply of gas forced them to change their plans and land in England, the flyers said.

"It was a wonderful trip," said Reid, "but we surely are disappointed we couldn't continue on to Bagdad."

"We had bad weather most of the way across the Atlantic. The controls jammed several times. So when the gasoline supply seemed to be dropping we thought it best to land."

"Anyway, we're glad we landed safely," Reid added.

The flyers said they had been running into increasingly unfavorable weather. They landed in a private field at the aerodrome.

When the black-winged biplane came to the ground in a perfect landing, the few members in the Heston clubhouse rushed out in surprise. They were amazed when they learned who the flyers were.

"We are glad to be here," they told spectators, who showered congratulations upon the two men. "What shall we do about customs regulations?"

Their calmness brought a note of surprise. "It's all done as nonchalantly as if they had come from just around the corner," said one official at the aerodrome.

Customs requirements met, the flyers took off for Hatfield, home port of the ship when it was "Seafarer II," piloted by Jimmy Mollison and his wife, Amy Johnson.

Leaves To Claim Fortune

Former Alberta Man Will Use It To Establish Innocence

Toronto.—John F. Gallagher, convicted in 1922 of the murder of John G. Coward in Alberta, sentenced to be hanged and later acquitted, has left for England to claim $500,000 which an aunt promised him if he settled down and married before Dec. 25, 1938.

Gallagher, who has been living in Toronto during the last three months under an assumed name, was convicted of arson when his home in Alberta was destroyed by fire. Sentenced to life imprisonment, he appealed and sentence was judged excessive. It was reduced to 10 years and he served the term in full.

Gallagher plans to use a portion of the fortune he will receive in England in an effort to establish his innocence of the arson charge and bring to justice the murderers of Coward and I. Fuller, friends and neighbors in Carbon, Alberta, both of whom were killed within a year.

Resignation Announced

General Manager Of Canadian Airways Going To U.S.

Winnipeg.—Resignation of Wilfred C. Sigerson, general manager and comptroller of Canadian Airways, Limited, was announced here by James A. Richardson, president.

It is understood Mr. Sigerson will leave here shortly to take an executive position with an aviation company in the United States. Mr. Sigerson was elected comptroller of Canadian Airways, when the company was formed through amalgamations.

Linear Boats Own Time

Cherbourg, France.—The Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of Britain, claimed a new record for the Quebec-Cherbourg-Atlantic crossing. Her time for the crossing was four days, six hours and 58 minutes, 34 minutes under her own previous record, set in August, 1933.

THE ART OF GETTING ALONG

Sooner or later, a man, if he is wise, discovers that business life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take. He learns that he who loses his temper usually loses. He comes to realize that the business could run perfectly well without him. He learns that carrying a chip on his shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight. He learns that buck passing always turns out to be a boomerang, and that it never pays. He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others. He learns that it doesn't matter so much who gets the credit, so long as the business shows profit. He learns that it doesn't pay to be a sensitive soul—that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back. He learns that even the janitor is human and that it doesn't do any harm to smile and say "Good morning," even if it is raining. He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then, and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's grout too seriously. He learns that most of the other fellows are as ambitious as he is, and they have brains that are as good or better, and that hard work and not cleverness is the secret of success.—EX.

The Coal Company have been signing on more men lately and are now employing about 500 men. For the past few months the mines have been working six days a week, producing from 1200 to 1600 tons of coal daily. Local district forest areas are being patrolled by competent temporary officials. Fred Green is in the Castle River district as a special, and Bill Lee is looking after the area south of Blairmore. Permits are now necessary for any person to enter the forests, this being a precautionary measure found necessary to combat those believed to be deliberately starting fires.

In Hodge crater the roses blow. God's garden blossoms over the dead; And up the muddy ridge of woe To Paschendale the cornfields spread;

Death's bitter fields of long ago Today are harvested. O land, redeemed from war's red reign!

Like you they too shall rise again, Who died your soul to save.

Holiday resorts are largely to blame for the fact that the men are fast becoming considered weaker and weaker. At Waterton Lakes on Sunday last, the men were actually being driven by the women—in about eighty per cent of the cars.

A party paper published in Canada, which featured under three district headings, provincial, dominion and world news, contained an item under "World News," relating to Blairmore. Blairmore's sure getting to be a prominent place.

During the past few days, various parts of Alberta have been hard hit by hail storms, and heavy damage done to standing grain crops. In the southern part of the province, harvesting is so far advanced that there is very little possibility of serious damage should similar storms arrive.

The Wainwright Star carries a heading: "Paschendale Folks Have Glorious Time at Annual Picnic." We have heard of Paschendale before, and the word has been suggested as a change for the name of a prominent city in Alberta, to be spelt "Paschendale."

When a local auto party stopped for fifty seconds on a street at Waterton on Sunday last, they were hailed by a pompous mountie to "Move on! This is no parking place!" Such hasty action on the part of an officer of the law does nothing more than drive people away from a holiday resort.

Many a non-advertising retailer keeps back from advertising just because he feels that it is necessary to advertise in a big way and because he is not ready to advertise in a big way.

To keep back from our newspaper until you are ready to use big space is just as foolish as would be keeping a child out of school until it had the ability to pass its matriculation examination. Beginners in every form of enterprise need to go warily; until experience and practice and growing ability warrant them to attempt larger things, they should proceed cautiously.

It will pay some retailers to use classified advertisements and small spaces of 2 and 3 inches. These little advertisements will surely be seen and read by newspaper readers. Make small advertisements offer special merchandise. Change them frequently. A quick succession of little advertisements, everyone of which is alive, will of a certainty effect sales—will attract new customers. The thing to be frightened of is dumbness: a retail store which does not talk to the public by means of newspaper advertisements misses a lot of business. The public goes where it is invited to go.

Threshing is well under way here now, and fall wheat is being hauled in to the elevators is testing out well, with a good percentage grading number one. It is estimated that 200,000 bushels of grain will be threshed in this district this fall. Owing to drought last year, there was an estimate of only 15,000 bushels from the same area. There are fields of wheat in the district this year that will thresh out fifty bushels to the acre. There is heavy acreage of summer fallow now ready to be seeded to fall wheat. Farmers are feeling quite hopeful, on account of a full harvest.

ALBERTA FARMERS PLEASE NOTE

BLACKPOOL, Eng.—Times may be dull down on the farm, but even the scarecrows have to be up to date.

According to a Marton Moss farmer, it is useless to put a ragged old scarecrow tricked out in a ancient frock coat and top hat in a field.

"Birds have got so cute somehow that they seem to know that men don't walk about in the fields dressed like that," he said, "so we have to make scarecrows look real."

So now they wear tweeds, or flannel trousers and sport shirts.

Magistrate: "So your only defense is that you were drunk when you kissed this lady. How can you prove that this is true?"

Val: "Well, just take a look at her yourself."

A barking dog died, and its owner, suspecting poison, summoned a neighbor. Another neighbor being subpoenaed as witness, the following cross-examination occurred:

"What did the dog die of?"

"A died of a Friday, sir?"

"Yes, but how did he die?"

"On a back, sir."

"Yes, but what made him die?"

"A's heart gived out, sir."

"Yes, yes, but how did he come by his death?"

"A didn't come to it, sir, it come to he."

"Yes, yes, yes, my good man, but what was the complaint?"

"Thee wadden never no complain, sir, the neighbors was all satisfied."

Indicating the trend towards greater production and recovery of business, substantial increase in the second quarter of 1934 as compared with the corresponding period of 1933 is shown in the recently published production figures of Consolidated Mining and Smelting, one of world's greatest mining companies.

Driving a highly decorated locomotive into the Canadian Pacific Railway depot at the end of the Calgary-Edmonton run recently, A. N. Founded June 13, 1874, by George and Matthew Healey and with agencies, warehouses, offices or depots across Canada, New Zealand, the United Kingdom and fifty other countries, the national and world-wide exporting house of Best Bros., manufacturers of washing machines and farm implements, celebrated its Diamond Jubilee at Pergus, Ont., last month.

WHY THE PRINTER LOST HIS JOB

Out in Missouri last year a farmer gave a printing office an order for sale bills. The job was promised for June 30th. The date being just before the prolonged drought started, the printer decided to take a few parting drinks. He took several. Then he happened to remember the bills that were promised for delivery that day and staggered to the office to get out the job. The farmer called for the bills, paid for them, took them home and the next day started to put them up. This is what he read when he came down to the list of articles for sale:

25 cows broke to work; 11 head of cultivators, coming in soon; 10 head of shovelling boars with scoops by side; 8 piano mares, 120 rods of canvas belting, better than new; DeLaval cow with ice cream attachment; McCormick binder in foal; Poland China bobbed, due to farrow in April; 14 head of chickens with grass seed attachments in good working order; 2 J. I. Case riding halfers, good as new; spraying outfit, can be ridden by children; 15 hilly goats, 70 bushels capacity, with spraying nozzle and other attachments; many other articles too numerous to mention, which I expect to get at night between now and sale.

Clare Snyder: "Hey, boss! Your doctor's out here with a flat tire and wants to know what it's going to cost him."

Morgan: "Diagnose the case flatulency of the perimeter and charge him ten bucks."

A CHILD'S ESSAY

A teacher asked her class to write an essay on geese. This essay was turned in by an 8-year-old miss:

"Geese is a low, heavy set bird which is most meat and feathers. His head sits on one end and he sits on the other. He ain't got no between-his-toes, and he's got a balloon in his stomach to keep him from sinking. Some when they get big have curls on their tails and is called ganders. Ganders don't have to sit and hatch, but just eat and loaf and go in swimming.

If I was a goose, I'd rather be a gander."

Mother: "Tommy, your music teacher is coming. Have you washed your face and hands?"

Tommy: "Yes, ma."

"And your ears?"

"Well, mother, I washed the one that will be next to her."

A doctor said to a woman patient:

"How old did you say you were?"

"I never mentioned my age," she said, "but as a matter of fact, I've just reached twenty-one."

"Indeed!" the doctor said, "what detained you?"

Mrs. Jones: "I sent my boy for two pounds of strawberries, and you only sent a pound and a half."

Grocer: "My scales are alright, madam. Have you weighed your little boy?"

Little Journeys In Science

SOLUTIONS

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

When a spoonful of salt is placed in a glass of water we observe that the salt disappears. The scientist describes this simple fact by saying that the salt has dissolved in the water, and he calls the resulting mixture a salt solution. The substance which is dissolved is called the solute, and the material which does the dissolving is known as the solvent. Thus, when salt is dissolved in water, the salt is the solute and the water is the solvent.

Water is the most common and useful of all solvents. It dissolves many solids such as sugar, salt, washing soda, and saltpetre. It also dissolves some liquids such as alcohol, which mixes readily with water in any proportion. Some gases are very soluble in water, whereas others are only slightly soluble. Ammonia gas dissolves very readily in water, producing a solution which is sold as household ammonia. Oxygen is an example of a gas which is only slightly soluble, being found to the extent of three parts by volume to 100 parts of water. However, this small amount of dissolved oxygen is sufficient to keep fish alive. The fish extract the oxygen from the water by means of their gills.

We are quite familiar with many other solvents. Gasoline is a good solvent for grease. Turpentine dissolves paint and other dissolves fats. Another good solvent for grease is a liquid known by the chemist as carbon tetrachloride. This is sold widely as a cleanser, under various trade names.

Plants can only use the minerals from the soil in solution. The water in the soil dissolves some of the minerals, and this solution is taken in through the roots of the plants, and up to the leaves by means of action. In the human body all food is first transformed or "digested" into soluble substances before being taken into the blood stream.

"Hardness" in water is due to the presence of certain salts which are dissolved in the water. The hard crust frequently found on the inside of tea kettles is made up of these minerals, which are left behind when the water changes to steam.

From many of the feeding tests carried out at the Dominion Experimental Farms and elsewhere, it has been found that barley is an excellent substitute for corn in the feeding of livestock.

The columbine flower was named because of its fancied resemblance to a nest of doves, in Latin, Columbia.

Has Unusual Record

Woman Mechanist Took Turn On Watch In Graf Zeppelin

Karin Manneemann, graduate engineer, holds the unique record of being the first woman mechanist to be employed on a flight of the Graf Zeppelin.

Karin completed a round trip from Friedrichshafen to South America taking her shift in the motor gondola of the Zep with the other mechanists.

The young lady wore greasy overalls the entire time aboard the ship in contrast to the chic frocks of some of the women passengers.

Miss Manneemann has been employed in an aeroplane factory and made the trip to familiarize herself with heavy motors under flying conditions. It was a prerequisite for a better job with a rival manufacturer.

During the trip she stood watches of two hours on, two hours off in one of the motor gondolas, the trick and rest periods at night being doubled.

Karin was graduated from the technical high school in Berlin receiving her degree in engineering. Since leaving school she has devoted her talent to aeroplane design and construction.

Thrills Of An Under-Privileged Sportsman's Life

By JACK MINER

Yes, readers and they grow to be more thrilling as the years ripen the human mind to be more and more appreciative and considerate of the blessed body and soul building and powerful advantages God has given us in the study of His great great outdoors. Personally, I am compelled to believe that my handicaps have brought me favours that money cannot buy nor take away. For illustration, as soon as I was big enough to toddle after father on a pigeon hunt and pull the top rail off a high fence down on me I can remember father shouting in his English accent, "Ere they come, Jack, hurry up and 'tut And soon I got the thrill of hearing the thunder of that old black powder and the pigeons rain down all around and about me. Later on come the thrill of moving to the music of the fiddle and dancing and catching my first den of foxes, pretty, little, hard-bitten red woves. These fall come on as we were all most hungry, I slipped out, and one snowy Sunday morning had the thrill of my life, for in less than an hour I had killed my first deer. I ten of them by name. But here are all back in their November formation, and in my simple way I seem to want to know more about them. With my hands I try to focus my eyes on them and so forth. Just at that stage of my anxiety my very soul was thrilled to the extreme limit with what I firmly and conscientiously believe was the still small voice saying, "Stamp your Sunday feet and those Salvation Army calendar messages on your goose bands, and make missionaries of your hand-picked birds. Reader, in a flash I threw that old blanket off my shoulders and sprang to my feet as quick or quicker than I have ever seen a bull moose rise out of his bed. Yes, how to do it! Well, since my reaching position all seemed to be visualized or picked up in the same flash.

I, well, since I have caught, banded and liberated over 10,000 Canada geese. Think of it, 10,000, ten thousand of honking thrills tossed into the air to go and multiply. Oh! picture now if you can an aged white head with hair as grey as living hair, from his life-long study. He has was then only 13 years of age, and could neither carry or drag it. So I ran home for help.

Sportsmen remember this, youth is the springtime of life, and age is the harvest, and at the price the average sportsman is paying for his sporting thrills to day I have long since been a multi-millionaire.

Years and years before we had an open season on moose in Ontario, I hunted them in Quebec, and time and again I have enjoyed the tingling thrill of having a small car load of moose at the mercy of my rifle, and from 1903 to 1917 they were nearly as thick in Ontario. (Moose I believe are the largest antlered game on earth.)

I have flashed a light into a bear's den and been thrilled by seeing these black clouds with pretty faces, looking helplessly and pitifully at me.

I have answered the howl of a wolf and as proof that I fooled him I soon saw him come quivering towards me, without excepting the fact I had the sporting thrill of all my shooting career as I pressed the trigger.

Lesson. Possibly you see the colored pictures of the little, curly-haired Carpenter standing before and holding the intense attention of a congregation of men. Or it may be that of Joseph making himself known to his aged broken-hearted father. I tell you one and all it has always kindled my inspiration to be more considerate, patient and loving when I weed and eat down with my own class of mischievous teen aged boys.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AUGUST 19

Golden text: "Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live." Amos 5:14.
Lesson: Amos 6:1-7, 11-14.
Devotional reading: Isaiah 55:6-11.

Explanations And Comments

The False Confidence of Rulers, verses 1-3. The rulers were at ease in Zion (Jerusalem), and secure in Samaria; luxury had lulled them into a feeling of false security. There was some excuse for their pride. Every nation was at peace, and their capitals were deemed impregnable. Defended as they were by surrounding mountains. "As the mountains were round about Samaria and Jerusalem, so, they believed, would Jehovah be round about his people. In point of fact, Samaria kept the besieging Assyrian army at bay for three years before she finally met the doom which Amos had pronounced upon her thirty years or so before; and a century and a half afterwards it took the Babylonians 18 months to effect the capture of Jerusalem.

The Laziness and Luxury, verse 4. Amos now graphically pictures the everyday life of these prominent men of Samaria. They lay upon beds inlaid with ivory brought from afar, though they are not weary, and they stretch themselves upon their couches at table, though they are not hungry. "It is easy to understand how the prophet, desert-trained, sleeping under the stars, always on the alert against robbers and wild beasts, would not only look with scorn upon so idle and luxurious a life, but would see the dangers which lay behind it. Such people as this were a poor defense in the day of trouble. They were soft in body, mind and soul; they knew nothing of the sound sleep which follows after weariness; nothing of how good, simple food may be seasoned with hunger, nothing of how blessed is a draught of cool water to those who have gone a hard way under lurid skies." (Atkins).

Vain and Vicious Pursuits, verses 5 & 6. "Ease and softness, indulgence and grandmother of vice." At their banquet the dissolute revelers were indulging to the sound of the viol, and inventing for themselves instruments of music, as David did, though for a far different purpose: David used his instruments in the praise of Jehovah; these idle rich, in their drunken revels. For they became so used to the sound of music, that they were not content to drink their wine from measures smaller than bowls, and they annoyed themselves with very costly jugs; but they were not grieved for the affliction of Joseph, and this latter is the most damning charge of all. The expression calls to mind that scene in the early stories of the race when Joseph's brothers sat down to eat and drink, utterly careless of the cries of Joseph in the nearby pit. Genesis 42:21. In like manner, the people of Israel were carousing in utter callousness to the sufferings of the poor, when "the righteous were being sold for silver and the needy for a pair of shoes."

"Hill fares the land, to hastening ill a prey,
When wealth accumulates and men decay."

The heartless indifference of the luxurious rich to the social wrongs of the nations stirred the soul of Amos to its depths. He saw the nations and religious leaders at ease, the society women living in prodigious luxury, without a care for the tragic condition of the lower classes oppressed by injustice and corruption. The great thing about Amos is that he felt that most common sense, akin to the Master when he flamed forth in indignant condemnation of the Pharisees. (Elmer A. Leslie).

Answers To Questionnaire On Recreation Shows Following Result

An American organization known as the National Recreation Association, formed to study and make suggestions on the employment of leisure-time, has been trying to find out what form of activity in their spare hours shows the greatest appeal to the average person.

It prepared and sent out a questionnaire to five thousand persons of all sorts—housewives, social workers, clerks, janitors, barbers, street cleaners, truck drivers and so on. They have been asked to check on a list of 94 recreations those they preferred and made most use of. Reading newspapers took first place by a wide margin.

The objection may be raised that the results of newspapers should not be included in any such list, that it should be a daily occupation of intelligent citizenship. Be this as it may, this revelation of the taste of the majority of people indicates the success of the newspapers in estimating popular interest and justifies journalistic judgment in providing in the newspaper departments giving information, amusement and entertainment for young and old in every occupational group and social level.
